Don't looking...

Once upon a time, in a faraway place, there lived a young couple. They got along very well.

Together,
they were very happy.

They always smiled and laughed
together.

After they were married, the wife would not live to see the next spring.

However, those happy days would not last long.

The man, now alone, was very sad and cried every day. He stayed home and would not meet anybody.

After crying, he went out for a few times, but he finally stayed out at the house and

Spring

In the garden,
something strange was growing

But there really was something strange growing
in the garden

Since he had been crying for a long time, he thought his eyes
had become bad and he kept staring

It did not seem like a trick. When it looked into his eyes, it smiled and happily raised its hand.

He wondered what kind of creature it was for a while

But, he eventually stopped looking

Even though the weather was nice, he did not want to do anything and simply laid there.

He locked himself inside
once again.

Some days later

When he stepped out of the house again

The strange thing had completely withered. There had been no rain, so it didn't have enough water.

... but he felt
pity for it and gave it some water.

He honestly did not want to have anything to do with it...

While he was looking at it, it became healthy again.

When he gave it
water, it drank and drank in large gulps.

After he made sure of what he was doing...

His again returned inside his house.

And so, as usual,
he began to stay
inside his house.

he began to worry very much.

When one,
then two,
good days of weather
came...

"What if it's withered again?" He could not cross.

Somehow, he had become a good person at heart.

When he looked at the garden

it had become withered once again, like he thought.

...so he uprooted it,
brought it inside his house, and planted it
there.

"I can't calm down if this continues," he thought..

From that day,
he began to live
an enchanted
life with it

He began to water it
every day

It loved
water

It always drank the delicious
water.

It seemed like bugs and would climb its walls. It loved basking in the sun

The warmth made him feel good and he would close off

It always watched him as he ate.

As this continued every day, he began to feel better, little by little.

The sadness of losing his wife had not gone away, but with the time spent with it, he could forget.

He still did not want to meet other people, but him and it were enough for him.

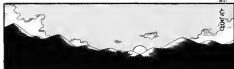

He had thought
these feelings
would never come again.

He was very thankful that he had met it.

He also began to wish that this time with it would never end.

"...so I don't want to see anyone ever

"If I never met them, I would never have such fun and happy memories."

The Great Unlucky Christmas Eve

After that, he left alone again, and went to the city just like he had done before.

To meet and say hello, without fear of goodbye.

Like a hard winter, goodbyes were difficult.

But, that he might meet someone!

That he might meet someone warm like the spring sunbath... that he might meet her again!
